

Announcing TSD Foundation's 2nd Annual Fall Festival October 19, 2013

Making plans for cooler weather? Add this to your calendar!

TSD Foundation's Run for All event will pick-up the momentum started with last year's Spooky Skedaddle, and is set to become a new tradition for the Texas School for the Deaf community, and for all Austinites!

MUSIC: Our first band - yes, first band - hits the stage at 5:30 p.m. while the runners arrive and get settled in. Then, at 6:30 p.m. - just before the starting gun - teenage bluegrass phenom, Ruby Jane Smith, will start her set as 5K runners take two loops around the TSD campus.

FESTIVAL: After the 5K, visit local food trailers and other vendors around the TSD track and field.

AND, MORE: Be sure to stick around for the Pro Track Meet, starting at 7:15 p.m., followed by an under-the-stars captioned screening of the movie, "Beetlejuice", presented by the Alamo Drafthouse.

STILL MORE: Don't miss the after-party at Freddie's Place right around the corner on South First street.

ALL OF THIS - Registration for the 5K + Festival admission, and a Tech T-shirt - is only $30!
(For non-runners, Festival admission only: $10)

All proceeds benefit the Texas School for the Deaf Foundation.

TSD Foundation is very excited to bring Run for All to the Austin running and entertainment scene, and – with your participation - is committed to making this Fall Festival a success for Texas' deaf community.

Sincerely,

Carol Richards
